

Path in a Fish Farm

One day in May of a year, the respected Comrade Kim Jong Un visited a fish farm associated with the leadership exploits of President Kim Il Sung and Chairman Kim Jong Il.

Several years ago, he had accompanied the Chairman to the fish farm.

Looking back upon the day with deep emotion, he said:

My yearning grows stronger for the Chairman who made much effort to supply the people with enough fish. We should never forget his enduring leadership exploits as he made painstaking efforts to provide the people with tasty, nutritious fish.

He made his way along the path in the compound of the fish farm walked by the Chairman.

He said: Such a patriot as the Chairman can be found nowhere in the world, I think. Walking along the path reminds me of the beaming image of the Chairman, who said in a reciting tone that Korea moves towards the world and its sturgeons sail to the sea.
