

Special Guests

The respected Comrade Kim Jong Un took a measure for the Party Central Committee to organize a command team and offer services for flood victims at the April 25 Hostel and the military parade training base in the capital city of Pyongyang. After their arrival in Pyongyang, in August 2024, he visited their lodging quarters to greet them.

He asked the officials and employees of the April 25 Hostel and the military parade training base, as well as others concerned, to work hard so that the flood victims could be in a better condition than before, when returning to their dear native places that would be transformed beyond recognition. And he warmly wished that all the flood victims would have an unforgettable and meaningful time while staying in the capital city of their beloved motherland.

Under his loving care, the flood victims spent happy days in Pyongyang as special guests without equal in the world.
