

Long-cherished Desires of the WPK

One July day in 2020, the respected Comrade Kim Jong Un gave field guidance at the Kwangchon Chicken Farm under construction.

Looking round the construction site, he expressed satisfaction over the fact that the builders had done a great deal of work in a short period by vigorously promoting huge construction project, and spoke highly of their labour feats.

After a while, he said the construction of the farm was an undertaking which the Workers' Party of Korea had long planned and prepared by making so much effort, and that he held high expectation that it would make a substantial contribution to solving the issue of improving the people's dietary life for which the Party showed great concern. And he underscored the need for all builders to give full play to their loyalty and talents in the project, true to the Party's noble intention.

The day when he had proclaimed on the spot the groundbreaking of the Pyongyang General Hospital several months ago that year, Kim Jong Un said the construction of a modern general hospital was what the Party had long planned and prepared.